

1. Man shot to death in Pico Rivera
2. Life-long Whittier beauty queen to compete for Miss California
3. Man fatally shot by deputy in Norwalk
4. 12-year-old, man hurt on Knott's Berry Farm ride
5. Facebook plays major role in discovery of Glendora teen's body
6. Uptown Whittier cafe vandalized
7. Whittier cafe, sporting goods shop vandalized
8. Protestors rally against proposed NFL stadium
9. Shorter school year could be on tap for SGV, Whittier-area schools
10. Pico Rivera deep-sixes preferential parking policy

School Notes: Whittier baking contest to kick-off National Punctuation Day celebration

Posted: 09/20/2009 07:07:11 AM PDT

Local entries are being sought for a Punctuation Baking Contest to highlight the celebration of the sixth annual National Punctuation Day (NPD) on Thursday.

By Sept. 30, entrants must send a recipe and a sample of their cookie, cake, pastry, doughnut, or bread baked in the shape of a punctuation mark to National Punctuation Day; 1517 Buckeye Court; Pinole, CA 94564.

Entrants must send two print photos: one putting the item in an oven before baking, and the other taking it out when it's done.

Make sure the baked item can be seen clearly in the photos.

First-, second-, and third-place winners will receive a box of non-edible NPD goodies, and all entrants' photos and recipes will be published on the National Punctuation Day Web site.

To learn how schools and companies can participate in National Punctuation Day, visit www.NationalPunctuationDay.com

Education

Get the scoop on schools, teachers and students. Visit our Education page for more articles and photos.